

Meridian Waste Solutions: Differentiating Itself Through Technology

New Website Provides Innovative Integration and 24/7 Customer Care

ATLANTA (Accesswire) – Oct. 24, 2017: Meridian Waste Solutions, Inc. (NASDAQ: MRDN) (“Meridian Waste” or the “Company”), a vertically integrated, non-hazardous solid waste services company, announced its new corporate website (MWSinc.com) today with a sleek, contemporary design and highly developed 24/7 functionality that brings the Company into a sophisticated digital age in style and application.

The differentiating feature of the site is its integration with the Company’s operations software, Soft-Pak, as well as the creation of a Meridian Waste Customer Care Gateway for new customers without a current Meridian Waste account number. This eliminates many traditional emailed forms and the duplicate entry of information associated with lesser, older websites. This direct integration allows www.MWSinc.com to rise above other industry websites and provide an unmatched level of customer care and performance.

Residential and commercial customers will find a host of new integrated features on the site including:

- Find a residential customer pickup schedule: garbage, recycling and/or yard waste
- Sign up for service alerts
- NEW residential customer subscription registration and payment
- Schedule a residential bulk or white goods collection
- Schedule a commercial roll-off pickup and return
- Set up or change online billing and payments including auto-payments
- Request an extra pickup
- Report a missed collection
- Change customer account password
- Zip code locator for local facility information
- Local facility pages with facility contact information, holiday schedules and links to specific garbage guidelines

It’s in the Company’s and our customers’ best interest to keep everyone informed and streamline communications. Knowledge is power when it comes to managing expectations and providing high standards of customer care. The new website invites customers to sign up for service alerts to be notified by email and/or text alerts of issues such as severe weather events or road closures and holidays affecting their collection schedule as well as special announcements and promotions.

“It’s always our goal to make taking out the trash that much easier,” said Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Jeff Cosman. “We know that our customer care office hours do not always match those of our customers, so we set about creating a new website to meet the needs and tech-savvy expectations of our customers and potential customers. We trust that the careful planning, thoughtful approach and seamless design of our new website will make doing business with Meridian Waste even easier.”
