Subject: Important Notice Regarding Residential Service Rate Adjustment Effective October 1, 2026

Dear Valued Meridian Waste Customer,

At Meridian Waste, we work hard to provide Nassau County residents with reliable, cost-effective waste collection service. We also make every effort to manage costs that are outside of our customers' control. Unfortunately, a significant increase in disposal costs requires us to adjust residential service rates effective October 1, 2026.

Nassau County no longer operates a municipal solid waste (MSW) landfill, limiting local disposal options for residential waste collected within the County. Additionally, the City of Jacksonville currently does not accept out-of-county waste for disposal. As a result, Camden County Landfill in Georgia remains the most economical disposal option currently available to Meridian Waste for Nassau County residential waste.

Camden County has implemented new disposal rates, including a rate of $41.90 per ton for out-of-county municipal solid waste (up from $27.89 per ton – a 33.5% increase). The attached Camden County rate schedule reflects the new disposal pricing. Because disposal fees are a direct cost of providing residential collection service, this increase requires Meridian Waste to adjust our customer rates accordingly.

Beginning October 1, 2026, your new residential garbage (MSW) service rate will be $39.75 per month (billed quarterly). The monthly recycling collection rate is not changing.

We understand that no customer welcomes a rate increase. Please know that Meridian Waste continues to evaluate available disposal alternatives and work to control operating costs while maintaining the safe, dependable service our Nassau County customers expect.

We sincerely appreciate your business, your understanding, and the opportunity to continue serving you.

Sincerely,
Meridian Waste – Nassau County Hauling
